Dr Stephanie Burns presents
Leadership Futures

2019 PROGRAM

“This is the best personal development course I have ever attended! I often apply the skills I have learnt in both professional and personal situations.” – IRENE WONG,
ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR, PROJECT FINANCE, COMMONWEALTH BANK

Have you attended Dr. Stephanie Burns’ Voice of Leadership program? Are you ready to learn more, to take another set of steps toward your future, to prepare a detailed plan for how you can take Stephanie’s learnings and apply them towards achieving your career and life goals?

Our Leadership Futures course is designed for those graduates of the Voice of Leadership, who are interested in looking more deeply into the development of your human behaviour and leadership skills.

The course is delivered over two sessions, each with its own focus. This program builds on the content of the Voice of Leadership program, and takes you into workshopping that content designing your own long-term future development.

Unlike the WiBF Voice of Leadership Program, Leadership Futures is open to an intimate cohort of 20 participants for a highly personalized and tailored experience and coaching from Stef.

Note: This program is offered subject to demand. In the event that the program does not fill, we may look to reschedule to an alternate date. Please register to confirm your place as soon as possible.

EXCLUSIVELY OFFERED TO WiBF MEMBERS
Be quick to enrol, limited places available.

ABOUT THE TRAINER

Dr. Stephanie Burns is well known in the Australian corporate, education and government communities. Trained originally as an engineer by the U.S. Army her career evolved through influential studies into human behaviour. Her own research has led to practical solutions to problems in the areas of leadership, communication, learning and teaching effectiveness. She has lived in Australia since 1987, and completed her PhD with the University of South Australia.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

- ◆ Time: To achieve our leadership aspirations, first and foremost is our ability to think long into our career futures and taking actions that lead to that future. It is about developing 10, 20 and even 30 year plans. Time is going to pass whether we do anything or not. Having a 30 year plan is a very good idea. Participants will work with Stef to develop their own career and development plan to inform future decision making and opportunity evaluation.
- ◆ Know Thyself: Our personality and preferences play a big role in the choices we make, the kind of leadership attributes we can and will express. There are several key continuums important to explore, team vs. independent, global vs. specific, matchers vs. mis-matchers, optimists vs pessimists and so on. The trait itself is less important than the self-awareness of the traits we possess on from which good decisions can be made related to our career aspirations. Participants will develop a better understanding of their work preferences and style.
- ◆ Visibility: In a large pool of talented individuals just how does one distinguish themselves, catching the attention of those who ultimately make decisions about advancement? How you distinguish yourself has much to do with your expression of leadership in the marketplace. How do you identify your unique characteristics and bring them to the forefront of your presentation? If you attended a function with 100 others from your industry, just how is it you can be the one individual remembered? Participants will have the opportunity to take a deep dive with Stef into factors that will position themselves for future success.

“Stephanie generously shared war stories from her career, which brought to life the practical tips and suggestions I learned. The training was impactful in both my professional and personal life well beyond the course.”

- ALICE TANG, CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER, ASSET MANAGEMENT, MOELIS AUSTRALIA

“There are no passengers in this program. Everyone gets to participate and you get back as much as you give. I now appreciate the fact that HOW a message is communicated can significantly influence the outcome of a discussion.”

- YVONNE HOW, CLIENT SERVICE & RELATIONSHIP EXECUTIVE, STATE STREET CORPORATION

“I learnt that if you want to achieve a goal or change a behavior, don’t think about it, just do it. So now I try to just start – and think later.”

- JOANNE GARCIA, WEALTH PLATFORM & PRODUCT MANAGER, MACQUARIE GROUP

“No one wants to disappoint, so share your goals with others to set yourself up for achieving them.”

- SANDRA ETRYK, OPERATIONAL GOVERNANCE MANAGER | PRODUCTS & TECHNOLOGY – WEALTH |, MACQUARIE GROUP
